

English translations

Chinese: One thousand miles starts with one step.

French: “The person who knows two languages is worth two.”

German: “Those who know nothing of foreign languages know nothing of their own.”

Hebrew: Learning languages opens doors.

Japanese: If you do not enter the tiger’s cave, you will not catch its cub. (Nothing ventured, nothing gained.)

Latin: Knowledge itself is power.

Spanish: “Boredom is cured with curiosity. Curiosity doesn’t have a cure.”