MISSION

- To inspire curiosity, inquiry, and creativity
- To foster empathy, collaboration, and self-esteem
- To promote free expression, passion for art, and the pursuit of excellence

PHILOSOPHY

Disciplined study of media, speech, and theatre provides a path to a comprehensive understanding of the individual within the global community. Students who pursue excellence in communicative arts are more confident taking personal and professional risks, grow from seeking out and legitimizing different perspectives, and embrace opportunities to both struggle with old ideas and create new work.

OBJECTIVES

Upon successful completion of any course of study within the Media, Speech & Theatre Department, students should be able to:

- Collaborate effectively in diverse situations and groups;
- Respond to others with empathy and compassion;
- Reason critically;
- Articulate thought meaningfully;
- Select mindfully;
- Express ideas artistically; and
- Apply diverse resources and methods to their work.

THE MEDIA, SPEECH & THEATRE DEPARTMENT OFFERS THREE DISTINCT AREAS OF STUDY.

Media students become trusted reporters, compassionate directors, competent artisans, and effective storytellers. Besides learning how to produce a variety of media, students develop an appreciation and understanding of the art of moving pictures and broadcast journalism. Making media together is a great opportunity to create lifelong friendships. A student walks into a classroom as an individual and walks out as a confident member of a crew.

Speech and Debate students develop curious minds and learn to think critically and advocate effectively. Students find camaraderie with others through stimulating intellectual engagement and respectful argumentation. Through deliberation, reasoning, and building memorable friendships, speech and debate prepares students to overcome future challenges and helps them develop their own sense of self.

Theatre students develop curious minds that think critically and consider multiple perspectives in order to create an artistic experience for the stage. Students build community with each other and with audiences by taking artistic risks, exploring the human condition, and working collaboratively toward a common goal. Students develop their social-emotional, performance, and writing skills through their experience in the program.

CO-CURRICULAR AND EXTRACURRICULAR OPPORTUNITIES

Students in the Media, Speech & Theatre Department may build on their classroom experiences by participating in co-curricular and extracurricular opportunities in film, radio, and television broadcasting, interscholastic speech and debate competition, and theatrical performance, stagecraft, and design.

Media Courses

Freshman Media Production

OPEN TO FRESHMEN
PREREQUISITE: NONE
.5 ELECTIVE CREDIT

This course introduces students to the world of media making and analysis. It is designed as an overview of the variety of media genres, disciplines, and formats. Units include Hollywood-style digital storytelling, the video gaming industry, sports and news broadcasting, print journalism and blogging, radio production, marketing and advertising, and legal and ethical practices in the industry. Students will develop skills to analyze and evaluate media messages critically as both consumers and producers. Students will contribute content to WNTH, New Trier's radio station as well as produce a TV show for the Northfield Campus. This course is recommended for students interested in pursuing the film production and broadcasting curricula at the Winnetka Campus. This course fulfills the graduation requirement for fine and/or practical arts.

Broadcast Journalism 1

OPEN TO SOPHOMORES, JUNIORS, AND SENIORS
PREREQUISITE: NONE
1.0 MAJOR CREDIT AT LEVEL 9 / .5 ELECTIVE CREDIT

This course introduces students to the fundamentals of broadcasting for radio, television, and other digital video and audio media. Students work in different collaborative roles to write, record, edit, and produce a number of specialized projects including talk radio shows, television and radio news, remote television broadcasts, and podcasts. Units also feature journalistic ethics, the art of the interview, and writing for viewers and listeners. Tools of the class include cameras, lighting and sound equipment, and digital editing software. Assignments require collecting footage and covering events outside of class. Student work will be shared on school media outlets such as Trevolution TV and WNTH Radio. Students are also encouraged to enter their work in national and regional broadcasting contests and festivals. Examples of student work can be seen on the Media page of the Media, Speech & Theatre Department's website. This course fulfills the graduation requirement for fine and/or practical arts.

Film Production 1

OPEN TO SOPHOMORES, JUNIORS, AND SENIORS
PREREQUISITE: NONE
1.0 MAJOR CREDIT AT LEVEL 9 / .5 ELECTIVE CREDIT

This course introduces students to storytelling, using film and sound production techniques and the principles of screenwriting. Students will work in different collaborative roles to write, shoot, edit, and produce narrative and documentary films throughout the year while learning classic Hollywood techniques of storytelling. Tools of the class include cameras, lighting and sound equipment, and digital editing software. Assignments require collecting footage outside of class. Student work will be shared on school media outlets and may be shown in local movie theatres. Students are also encouraged to enter their videos in national and regional film festivals. This course builds a strong foundation for students interested in creating and producing original and commercial film, screenwriting, and broadcast journalism. Examples of student work can be seen on the Media, Speech & Theatre Department website's Media page. This course fulfills the graduation requirement for fine and/or practical arts.

Film Production 2

OPEN TO JUNIORS AND SENIORS
 PREREQUISITE: FILM PRODUCTION 1
 1.0 MAJOR CREDIT AT LEVEL 9 / .5 ELECTIVE CREDIT

This course focuses on screenwriting and directing. Students analyze professional screenplays and write their own original work. In addition, they will work in different collaborative roles to learn how a screenplay is used to communicate with crews, actors, and audiences effectively. Students will develop their narrative scriptwriting skills with particular attention to dialogue and story structure. Students will also work as producers, writers, directors of photography, on-air talent, sound designers, and editors for “Trevolution,” New Trier’s student television show. Assignments require collecting footage outside of class. Student projects will be shared on school media outlets and may be shown in local movie theatres. Students are also encouraged to submit class work to film festivals. Examples of student work can be seen on the Media, Speech & Theatre Department website’s Media page. This course fulfills the graduation requirement for fine and/or practical arts.

Film Production 3

OPEN TO SENIORS
 PREREQUISITE: FILM PRODUCTION 2
 1.0 MAJOR CREDIT AT LEVEL 9 / .5 ELECTIVE CREDIT

This course brings together skills, knowledge, and experience, gained in Film Production 1 and 2, in the art and craft of screenwriting, directing, cinematography, and editing. In this individualized course, students complete narrative or documentary film projects. For each project, students create a “pitch” consisting of a story synopsis, logline and character descriptions, creative swipes, and production schedules. Students are responsible for securing crew and talent under the supervision of the instructor. Students fine tune their creative portfolios and resumes to be college-submission ready. Assignments require collecting footage outside of class. Student projects are shared on school media outlets and may be shown in local movie theatres. Students are also encouraged to submit class work to film festivals. Examples of student work can be seen on the Media, Speech & Theatre Department website’s Media page. This course fulfills the graduation requirement for fine and/or practical arts.

Advanced Media Production/WNTH Radio Board

OPEN TO SOPHOMORES, JUNIORS, AND SENIORS
 PREREQUISITE: SELECTION FOR THE WNTH BOARD
 .5 ELECTIVE CREDIT

This course is designed to provide theory and practical experience for students interested in advanced work in radio production. Students refine technical skills such as mixing sound elements, communicating with music production companies, sports broadcasting, producing and directing feature-length programs in the areas of news, public affairs, music, and drama, and studio engineering. Course work also includes cooperative evaluation of WNTH programming to help maintain the quality of New Trier radio. The radio control room and studio is the lab for all production work. Only those students selected to serve on the WNTH board will be enrolled in this course. This course fulfills the graduation requirement for fine and/or practical arts.

Speech and Debate Courses

Freshman Speech and Debate

OPEN TO FRESHMEN
 PREREQUISITE: NONE
 .5 ELECTIVE CREDIT

This course is designed to develop effective speaking and argumentation skills. The yearlong course emphasizes critical thinking, research, collaboration, analysis, and speech writing. Students will practice persuasive and informative speaking as well as several forms of debate: Policy, Public Forum, Lincoln-Douglas, and Congressional. Although students are not required to participate on the Speech and Debate team, several opportunities are available to those students who wish to attend competitions. This course fulfills the graduation requirement for fine and/or practical arts.

Public Speaking and Strategic Communication

OPEN TO SOPHOMORES, JUNIORS, AND SENIORS
 PREREQUISITE: NONE
 .5 ELECTIVE CREDIT/ .25 ELECTIVE CREDIT

The first semester of this course centers on the exploration of the communications disciplines including building effective speaking skills and the preparation, presentation, and critique of a variety of individual speeches. The second semester concentrates on developing and implementing communications strategies that advance the goals and mission of particular private and public organizations. Both semesters emphasize critical thinking, analysis, and practical applications of communication skills. Specific film, television, print, and other media are used as students learn about and experiment with the fundamentals of public relations, mass communication, and rhetoric. Students will learn how to collaborate and communicate effectively through individual speaking and writing assignments and group presentations and projects. The nature of the class enables students to enroll for an entire year or either semester. This course fulfills the graduation requirement for fine and/or practical arts.
