

New Trier Will Fill Stockings for Servicemen

Musicale Presents Concert Nov. 21

Musicale club of New Trier High School, a student organization in the Music Integration Department of the school, has again successfully launched a year of concerts for students. This year there will be four attractions of an unusually high calibre, and the performers will be greeted by a sold-out house.

The first program of the series will be given next Tuesday, November 21, at 1:30 p.m. The artists will be a group of opera singers under the direction of Giacomo Rimini, and they will present familiar operatic selections including the Sextet from Lucia, the Quartet from Rigoletto, a trio from Faust, a duet from La Boheme, and several arias.

The second concert will be given by the General Platoff Don Cossacks, and the third by the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra. The fourth in the series will be announced later.

Boys' Career Club Hears Head Master

At its second meeting in the Tri-Ship room on Thursday night, November 9, the Boys' Career club was entertained by a speaker from the Lake Forest Academy. The speaker, Mr. Bowditch, is head master of the Academy, and his topic was "Viewpoints in Choosing a Career." The five main sub-topics of his talk were on the various professions, the liberal arts, the choice of a specific college, the courses taken in school and courses to take in college, and finally the possibility of choosing and obtaining a job.

The vice-president of the club, Bill Van Zuylen, is in charge of getting speakers for the meetings. It was decided that the club should be under the Student Council this year, and each member of the club would be required to pay a small fee which would cover the semester dues. The club meets every other Thursday night, and only junior and senior boys can be members.

Credit Due

Last week the Sophomores packed paper. The lack of cooperation at the beginning was amazing, and it was necessary to call attention to their neglect of duty. By the end of the week, however, the matter was cleared and the situation improved.

The names of those who cooperated are as follows: John Snyder, Donald Warner, Tom Babcock, Dick Pope, Bill Steinoff, Ralph Beebe, Roddy Hines, Chuck Brenchley, Bob Schultheis, Jerry Weisman, Bob Coates, Norman Serch, Holman Pettibone, Danny Enright, Ken Page, and Chuck Harris.

This list is somewhat incomplete due to the fact that a few appointed leaders did not do their share of the work.

Let us all cooperate with this necessary and critical project in the future.

Climax Football Season With Homecoming Dance

Tomorrow night, November 18, Tri-Ship will present its Homecoming dance in the New Trier dining hall from 8:30 until 12:00. The dance will climax the Evanston-New Trier football game Saturday afternoon, marking the final game of the season.

Jimmy McIntyre and his band will provide the music for the Homecoming. The dining hall will be decorated in a novel manner, appropriate for the occasion. There will be a portrait of the football field on the ceiling and the football theme will be carried out in the remainder of the decorations.

Stag tickets may still be purchased at the information desk for $1.80, and bid tickets may be secured at the door for $1.20. Everyone is urged to make Saturday a double header; to attend the game and to top it off by going to the Homecoming in the evening.

What's Up?

- Friday, Nov. 17
  - Sophomore assembly . . . Aud.
  - . . . Adv. pd.
  - Junior assembly . . . Aud. . . . Pd. 3
- Saturday, Nov. 18
  - Football game, N. T. vs. Evanston . . . Athletic Field
  - Tri-Ship dance
- Sunday, November 19
  - Badminton Club . . . 3:00-5:00
- Tuesday, Nov. 21
  - Musicale concert
- Thursday, Nov. 23
  - Thanksgiving vacation
- Friday, Nov. 24
  - Thanksgiving vacation

Actors' Guild Offers Comedy and Mystery

Thrills, chills, laughs go along with Actors' Guild. Actor' Guild is continuing its 1944-45 season with two of the best plays ever given here at New Trier. One of them is "Death Sends For The Doctor" by Eugene Heltai, which is the grim story of two men who are shanghaied to a lonely house and forced to treat a mysterious patient. Finally they find out his true identity. He is none other than Death, himself. Their encounter with the old master of rigor mortis makes a thrilling tale that is sure to please one and all.

The other play is "Star Struck," a riotous comedy by Florence Ryerson and Colin Clemens. This story concerns an actor who is so fond of pets that he clutters up his home with all sorts of tigers, eels, octopi, etc. Then one of his fans tries to kill herself and is brought to his house where she confronts the menagerie. What happens after that is your guess unless you come out and see these two fine plays. Remember, the date is Monday, November 21, and the price is twelve cents.

The Casts are:

- Star Struck*
  - Director—Bernice Eger, Northwestern university.
  - Assistant Director—Whiting Smith
  - Kitty Dare—Kay Lloyd
  - Harriet Brown—Barbara Roessler
  - Marilynn Euthers—Sara Davis
  - Rosalie—Jill Dawson
  - Polly Pry—Pat Kirschberg
  - Ada—Lorra Jane Bonano
  - Silver fish exterminators—Mel

Urge Students to Bring Gifts Early

Monday, November 20, Tri-Ship and Girls' Club are inaugurating a new drive. It will be for the purpose of making up "Bundles for America" to provide disabled soldiers and sailors in hospitals in this country with useful items for the sickbed as well as items to help pass away their time.

Tri-Ship requests that the boys in their adviser rooms divide themselves into groups of two, each pair filling a stocking which will be furnished for the purpose. Girls' Club is asking for girls to volunteer their help by bringing contributions for the drive. Both organizations urge that they be securely wrapped.

Students should bring items for the Bundles for America drive from the following list: talcum powder, wash cloths, photo folders, stationery, cribbage boards or other games, pencils, playing cards, scorepads, razor blades, hospital bed-slippers, wrapped candy, mystery pocket books, styptic pencil, chewing gum, toothbrushes.

New Trier students have done an excellent job in supporting past drives. When they realize how great a morale builder such a drive can be for disabled service men, they will again come through and put the drive over the top.

Canter Poll

By THE FOUR HORSEMEN

The Canter Poll's question given to New Trier boys this week was "Who do you think will win the Army-Navy game and by how much?" The average answers are listed.

Margin of victory	Army	Navy
Percentage	+15 pts.	-15 pts.
	92.5%	7.5%
Odds	12	to 1

The girls were asked whether they thought women should wear slacks in public. Clearly defined, women were meant to mean adults, slacks were not blue jeans, and the public was to mean market places, etc.

The results were:

Upperclassmen—Yes, 83%—No, 17%.

Lowerclassmen—Yes, 91%—No, 9%.

Totals—Yes, 87%—No, 13%.

It might be interesting to note that the nearer the student comes to being the woman wearing the slacks, the less she is in favor of the idea.

Next week's question will again be of a serious note. "Do you think an 18-year-old should vote?" Any ideas for future polls should be deposited in the NEWS office.

- Jensen, Edith Meager
- Death Sends For The Doctor
- Assistant Director—Joanne Hoffman
- Death—Earl Roe
- Doctor—Al Augur
- Secretary—Larry Jarchow
- Servant—Howe Green